

Reds In U.S. Disillusion Satellite Peoples

Dear Editor: I am a former judge at the High Appeal Court, Commercial Senate in Bruo, Czechoslovakia. I was forced by the Communists to leave my home in 1948 and I am now an American citizen.

I feel it my duty to congratulate the N.Y. MIRROR and columnist Fulton Lewis, Jr., for publishing many forthright articles and exposes on the Communist menace.

It is painful to see how much courage one must have in this century just to defend the truth. It is more painful to read that so many pinkos and fellow-travelers have such a strong foothold in the many organizations, etc., that keep contact between the free world and the peoples enslaved behind the Iron Curtain.

So many of these people, hated in their own countries, are now being introduced as interpreters of the American way of life. With the approval of apparently misinformed and misled officials, they are allowed to voice their distorted opinions of the American system to the peoples in the satellite countries.

You cannot imagine how dis-illusioning it is for these poor people to hear the voices of these traitors, for they, the oppressed in the Iron Curtain countries, are the staunchest allies of the West, democracy and freedom.

Lewis' articles are helping to open the eyes of Americans. Perhaps they will help repair the damage already done.

In any event, my congratulations and gratitude for your courage to stand on the side of truth. As one who has suffered under communism, I know where falsehood lies.—Dr. Jaroslav Navratil, N.Y.C.

It was alarming for me to read that there are so many quasi-Reds in the Radio Free Europe organization and similar operations who are feeding their countrymen behind the Iron Curtain a false bill of goods about America. I attribute this laxity on the part of American officials to the fact that so many don't know foreign languages and can't check Reds. Mildred Cathers, B'klyn.

HUMOROUS QUIPS

ART FORD, disc jockey: "A scandal magazine publisher is one who puts who and who together—and gets Whew!" ... GRACE DOWN, air hostess school: "Conversation may be a dead art, but there are still women who talk themselves to death"... OVER-HEARD in an East Side bistro: "Why do women like strong, silent men?" Answer: "Because they think he's listening"... GUY MIGLIACCIO, hair stylist: "Husbands should be especially attentive to their wives after the first kiss, the first baby and the first dye job—to cover up the first signs of gray."

Refugee From Reds

This woman, right, broadcasts music and news to her enslaved countrymen over Radio Free Europe. Her name is a secret because her family is still inside the Iron Curtain; she permitted this picture only because her appearance has changed drastically since her escape.
